

Graduation

Just as the children became Kings and Queens of Narnia, participants in Narnia have the opportunity to earn a title for themselves in Narnia. Graduation levels are named in honor of Lewis's background as a Medieval scholar and have certain written requirements (materials are provided):

Page of Narnia: Participate in the "Story" discussion group each week

Friend of Narnia: Complete the "Friend Memories" to demonstrate you read each book

Steward of Narnia: Complete the requirements from "Friend" and dig deeper into the story by completing the "Steward's Guide to the Story Behind the Story"

Knight of Narnia: Complete the Knight's Quest discussion questions with readings from Scripture and Mere Christianity

Add-on these levels to your experience:

Troubadour: Complete the requirements for any level while also keeping a journal of your thoughts, feelings, and experiences as you journey through Narnia

Knight Regent: Complete the requirements for "Knight" and bring back from your Quest some creative expression of your Narnian experience that captures the Magic of Narnia

Returning Participants

Many adventurers participate for multiple years—with each year you grow and your experience of Narnia will grow with you, as well as what you take from the experience. Narnia is intergenerational, and family participation is encouraged.

The Adventure Begins
This Summer!

NARNIA

Want to eat Narnian food, experience Narnian adventures, and join with friends to discover the deeper meanings within the Narnia chronicles?

Narnia is an intergenerational program designed to allow you to experience the world of Narnia through story, adventures, and a spirit of imagination.

Narnia is for everyone, whether you've yet to read the books or you're a long-time Lewis scholar.

Come "further in" to the fun this summer with adventure sessions led by seasoned guides from First Broad Street United Methodist Church's Narnia program, which began in 1981.

In each of the seven adventure sessions:

Everyone has the opportunity to participate in the hands-on adventures, including:

- ★ Caving
- ★ River-crossing by starlight
- ★ Lake Day
- ★ Compass Orienteering
- ★ Narnian Creation Planetarium Show

Everyone enjoys themed foods, including:

- ★ Narnian dwarves' breakfast with sausages;
- ★ the Beavers' Fish Fry; and— for the truly adventurous—
- ★ Narnian eel stew.

Everyone joins in one of the discussion groups, which are offered for different levels of engagement and experience with Lewis's books and scripture.

Levels of Discussion Engagement

As a part of Narnia, you can choose which discussion group fits your level of engagement:

Story: join with friends in hearing and actively re-telling each book's adventures with participative storytelling led by seasoned discussion guides. Those of all ages are welcome to experience the "magic" of the stories together.

Further Up & Further In: bring your own deeper insights and Biblical connections into an advanced discussion group, where we read from Lewis's book Mere Christianity and connect specific scripture passages and theological concepts to the adventures in the chronicles of Narnia. This group is for participants who are already familiar with the Narnian books.
